

Present,
Polite
&
Positive

“If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader.”

- John Quincy Adams

When u said somethin that was funny and no one heard so u say it again and they ask why u said the same thing twice

When you flush the toilet and the water starts rising

How do you know you're a leader?

If you've answered YES to most of these questions, you're a leader and people are ready to be influenced by you. If you've answered NO to most of them, all is not lost, leaders are not born, they're made.

- Don't assume you know everything.
  - You're always inclusive.
- You're ever ready to acknowledge a fault.
  - Are not afraid to ask for help.
- You have a passion for positive change.
- You're self aware of your strengths.
  - You know what you stand for.
- You're always ready to come midway during a dialogue.
- You're thinking of how to grow yourself each day.
  - You're obsessed about contributing.
    - You're a brand.
  - You understand and anticipate needs.
- You nurture deep meaningful relationships.
- You encourage connection and collaboration.

What are your strengths?

(Most common interview question)

Everyone of us has strengths and weakness.

Leaders among us are different because they

1. Know how to get around their weaknesses.
2. Understand what they know is very little compared to how much they need to know.
3. Are not afraid to ASK (Always seek knowledge) and
4. Have a problem solving attitude.

What are your strengths?

---

We need to talk.
(Usually accompanies bad news.)

It might have been.

(Of all sad words of mouth or pen, the saddest are these. — John Greenleaf Whittier)

What's in the name?

What is your name?

---

Now imagine your name is not what it used to be. Would you still be your own self or will you change? And how?

---

---

What do you think of labels that you put on yourself and others put on you?

---

---

Tell us your most outlandish dream.

---

---

What is your favorite website or app?

---

---

If you were one of the 5 elements—earth, wind, water, fire or space —which one would you be?

---

---

